About the British Menopause Society

British Menopause Society (BMS) is a multi-disciplinary society for the medical profession. It was founded as a charity and society in 1989 to advance education in menopausal healthcare.

Our mission

- To increase awareness of post-menopausal healthcare issues
- To promote optimal management through educational events, publications and information dissemination

The challenge of post-reproductive health management is increasing

As most British women can expect more than 30 years of post-reproductive life, the consequences for immediate and long-term healthcare are significant. We are committed to increasing awareness of these healthcare issues and promoting optimal clinical management of the menopause and beyond.

Our Medical Advisory Council comprises the leading international experts in post-reproductive management, who are also instrumental in instigating scientific research and creating consensus statements and guidelines for health professionals.

British Menopause Society Membership is open to healthcare professionals and others specialising in post-reproductive health. Visit our website for further Membership benefits and details on how to join.
